

Keynote abstract

Finland could become the world leader in horizontal and vertical integration—reason for enthusiasm or worry? ...

Simo Kokko, Institute for Health and Welfare, Finland

Correspondence to: Simo Kokko, E-mail: simo.kokko@thl.fi

Abstract

This keynote paper examines how the development of integrated care in Finland has become a key aspect of health and welfare reforms in recent years. However, it poses questions as to whether future reforms to the Finnish system will continue to support care integration and outlines many of the key challenges faced in supporting such an agenda.

Keywords

integrated care, Finland

Presentation slides available from:

<http://www.integratedcare.org/Portals/0/congresses/Finland/Presentations/Kokko%20keynote%20Finland%20leader%20IC.pdf>